● speaking of the Head of association

After passing decades of Islamic Revolution and establishment of the Islamic Republic in Iran, it is expected that the financial system of our country conforms to the Islamic financial system as much as possible or, at least, they should not mismatch.

The need to reach such a system is crucial especially when in the international arena, both in Muslim and non-Islamic countries, there is a lot of attention to the issue of Islamic finance including Islamic banking, Islamic capital market and its special instruments, and related issues of Islamic insurance and Takaful.

Various actions have been conducted to meet these needs in our country including approval of interest-free banking law, establishment of religious Jurisprudential Committee of the Stock Exchange, establishment of religious Jurisprudential council at the Central Bank and so on.

Although each action has a specific role in moving towards the Islamic financial system but the fact is that implementation of the Islamic financial system needs deep accurate comprehensive research which is not possible without efficient research and educational institutions that can connect executive fields with researchers and scholars.

According to these facts, Iranian Association of Islamic Finance was founded with support of the country's Islamic financial scholars in 1394. The main purpose of establishing this association is promotion of the Islamic financial system's position (banks, stock exchanges and insurance) in national and international arena through the scientific development, promotion and improvement of knowledge of Islamic finance, qualitative and quantitative development of specialists and improvement of educational and research activities in the field of Islamic finance.

Our goal in the Iranian Association of Islamic Finance is to approach a financial and economic system which complies with pure Islam and we hope to succeed in this way with reliance on God and with support and perseverance of all scholars, activists and interested individuals in the field of Islamic finance.
